By David Owen Culver

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Rhymes and Songs of Hope Our Hopes And Disappointments. Of t time we are finding more sorrow than joy, While our way through the world we are wending; There s often much pleasure but more to annoy; And together they often are blending. Of t times we are looking for something beyond, And from it much pleasure we borrow; When the future comes round there s naught in the fund, And our hopes lie dead for the morrow. Of t times when we think we are holding but gold, And on it, high hopes we are building; It proves in the end we ve sadly been sold, - Tis but dross, thin plated with gilding. Then some are professing the warmest of love, And we in return are believing; But when we are thinking them true as the dove, The while they are only deceiving. Still we find much honor and truth in the world, While onward in life we are moving; Deception and falsehood shall downward be hurled, While true friendship itself shall be...
